Our New Park

The new park at 63rd and Robey Sts. should receive your aid and your assistance. What have you done for this new park? Why not take your coat off and go to work? What is the matter with West Englewood? Do you think it is right to let a handful of men do it all while you sit back and take it easy? You will feel glad later if you act now. Put your shoulder to the wheel.

Prayer of the Bazook Booster

O God Creator, give us power to see the right and then to do it. Grant to us a clearness of vision that will enable us to understand.

Bazook Booster

Bungalows are selling in Marquette Manor; also two-flats. The wise purchaser is buying in January and will take a profit next spring.

Wm. G. Malmer sold a new bungalow today.

Sherry, the hatter is now a regular Bazook among us.

Snoppe, our leading piano merchant, is moving to 6309 S. Ashland Ave., into larger quarters.

M. P. Lyon has broken the ice, having sold two places for Jordan & Co. last Saturday and Sunday.

J. C. Sharp, ye editor in chief, has been ill this week. No flowers, please.

The roof is on Jordan & Co.'s new three-story brick at 2419 W. 63rd St.

DeKoker Coal Co. report they have plenty of excellent coal on hand. Telephone your order.

Charley Thomsen has several new lines of shirts on sale.

J. F. Jensen & Co. report that the snow has not stopped the ladies from coming to their January sales, now in progress.

Mr. Catron is now associated with Francis Kilbert & Co. We wish him a great success this year.

Have you patronized Armbruster's new Bakery at the lucky number, 2412 W. 63rd St.?

Semco is advertising some furniture bargains. After the show, drop in and see them.

Open a savings account with the Marquette Park State Bank. It is so convenient and the officers are anxious to please.

John Utesch has gone to California to spend the winter. That shows who is making the money. Have a good time, John.

Alderman Byrne of the 29th Ward should be re-elected. Watch for his advertisements in this paper. It pays to advertise. The alderman has certainly worked hard for this ward and everyone knows it. His office at 2349 W. 63rd St. is convenient for all. If you want him to do something for you call in any time. He sells good real estate in a high class subdivision, viz. Marquette Manor.

Paying Rent

Some kind of home you'll have to own, a humble shack of brick or frame, or one of stucco, mud or stone, if you would beat the landlord's game. For long sad years I paid my rent, and there'd be sunshine in my soul if I now had the coin that went to swell this landlord's gorgeous roll. The landlord owned a row of shacks, and every month he walked abroad, left desolation in his tracks, and touched each tenant for his wad. I muttered, as I dug the dimes, coughed up the sweat-stained, hard-earned seeds, "I've bought this coop a dozen times, and yet the landlord has the deeds." And when I fell and broke a limb, the landlord came to get the rent; there was no sympathy in him when I could not produce a cent. He said he didn't care a whoop for all my sufferings and sores; he fired me from that lowly coop and chased my weeping aunts outdoors. There is no thrift in paying rent to landlords who have hearts of stone; far better have a canvas tent, and know the blamed thing is your own. You cannot borrow seven dimes on all the wealth you've paid for rent; on your own house, in crucial times, you'll get a loan from some kind gent.

Looking Both Ways

Some people are always looking backward, bemoaning perhaps the missteps that kept them back from ambition's goal.

Others look ever forward and set high goals.

The wisest ones look both ways, take account of their mistakes and profit by them.

Experience is a great teacher—if if your past performances haven't brought you anywhere, why not try to discover in them the cause of failure?

If your course needs changing, determine now what new course to take. Profit by your mistakes.

If you have administered your income so as to deprive yourself of a personal capital, plan now to SAVE. And work your plan persistently.

McGarr and Thomas report activity in the real estate line.

Mr. R. Strauss and Mr. Arthur Eichler, the two neighborly furniture men, were laid up with a week's illness. We are glad to see them out again.

You all remember when Mr. Ballin, the clothier, was only opened about four days and some one came in one night and carried away about $5,000 worth of his best clothing. Paul says they are still coming in and carrying it away, but they leave their address with him now. They like the good grade of clothes he sells and they are pleasing lots of people daily. Remember his slogan, "Ballin wants to see you."

The big population figures which many cities are now claiming they will show under the 1920 census, were not suggested by these cities as the basis on which they should take their quotas in the war drives.

Northwest Englewood News

Honore Manor seems to be slipping as a health resort. During the week the following were reported on the sick list: Frank Hayes, confined to his bed with a nervous disease. Mrs. Ed Miller is suffering from ptomaine poisoning, contracted from eating olives. This resulted in complications and according to last reports, she was in a very precarious condition. Mrs. Oscar Johnson is threatened with pneumonia. We sincerely hope that all will be given Godspeed in their recovery.

The following letter was addressed to our Ward Superintendent:

Mr. M. O'Connell, Supt.
29th Ward Yards, Chicago.
Dear Mr. O'Connell:

We wish to thank you for your kindness and promptness in furnishing the material for an embankment in the skating pond, on the Earle Branch School grounds. This pond, although far from being perfect, is providing a great deal of pleasure and recreation for the children of that neighborhood and the writer is glad to have had the opportunity with you of having been the means of providing this healthful sport and exercise.

Yours very truly,
West Englewood Imp. Club
Per Peter Kramer, Secy.

In connection with the above, the Chief of Engine Co. No. 116, Mr. Frank A. Grady, should be given creditable mention for sending the crew out on a Sunday to flood the pond, and last but not least, Billy Rice, who worked hard all that day to make the pond a reality.

At the last City Council meeting there was passed an ordinance which repeals an ordinance passed previously to pave Robey St. from Garfield Blvd. to 63rd St. No reason was given for this repeal, but we presume it is being held up on account of the widening of the street, provisions for which were made at the last elections. Anybody further interested in this matter may get the full information by calling up either one of our aldermen.

"Naw, that ain't no flivver, that's Joe Gramm's new Chevrolet." News item.

One of the dirtiest, meanest and most contemptible crimes was committed in Honore Manor some weeks ago and has just come to light. One of the famous Honore Manorites, at great expense and labor, laid in a goodly supply of "grape juice" last fall, which was just about beginning to taste good; then some low down sneak thief broke his way into the basement, bribed the dog, and drained the barrel to the last drop. "Boys, throw the rope over that tree."

"BOOST"

Boost your city, boost your friend,
Boost the lodge that you attend;
Boost the street on which you're dwelling,
Boost the goods that you are selling;
Boost the people 'round about you—
They can get along without you—
But success will quicker find them
If they know that you're behind them.

Boost for every forward movement,
Boost for every new improvement;
Boost the man for whom you labor,
Boost the stranger and the neighbor;
Cease to be a chronic knocker,
Cease to be a progress blocker.
If you'd make your city better,
Boost it to the final letter.

Henry Wants a Name

Donald F. R. MacGregor

Every fellow has some name,
I have just next to none;
I wish I knew who is to blame,
I don't have any fun;
I am only Henry Jones,
And I think that is so cheap—
I know a fellow, "Sticks and Stones,"
And another, "Creepy Sheep."

There's "Butch" and "Country," "Fats" and "Bones,"
"Skates," and "Skinny," you know him?
And "Slats," that beats plain Henry Jones;
A funny name is "Slippery Jim."
There's "Red" and "Whity," "Limpy's" lame,
It's wrong to plague a boy for that;
But "Limpy," that's his only name—
Willie Green is "Scary Cat."

Every boy has got some name,
Every boy around I know;
That I have none I think a shame—
Some names I don't care for though;
There's "Mother's Boy" and "Teacher's Pet;"
The name I think I would like best,
(And not a boy has that name yet),
"Henry, the Terror of the West."

What Pewter Is.

Pewter is an alloy of tin and usually antimony, copper and bismuth for the best qualities of pewter, and lead for the inferior kinds. The tin always preponderates, and the proportion is largest in the best pewter. One hundred parts of tin to eight of antimony, four of copper and one of bismuth are given as the proportions of good ware.

Walrus a Big Beast.

The average sized Alaskan walrus is as big as an ox and often weighs more than a ton. A walrus was recently killed by some whalers near Point Barrow whose head weighed 80 pounds, and skin, including flippers, 500 pounds. The animal had a girth of 14 feet.

Sure! All the good steppers will be there. Where? Why, at that big "Serpentine Dance" to be given by the famous Rambler (Rose) Social Club on Friday evening, Feb. 6th, at Auburn Masonic Hall, 78th St. and Union Ave.

Have You Ever Tried?

Here is a plain question: Have you ever tried to save? Now answer it plainly and answer it honestly to yourself.

Now, if your answer is "No," here is another question: Can't you save?

Are you ready to answer the last question as you did the first, with a No?"

If you are, DON'T!

"Why?" you ask: BECAUSE YOU HAVE NEVER TRIED!

Try first, before you throw up the sponge. Get a pencil and paper and figure out just what you do with every cent which comes into your possession. You are going to be surprised when you've got it all down where you can look at it. There is no such word as "can't;" there is a word "can;" "can't" is simply "can" scratched out. If you possess even a single dollar at the end of your week's work, after necessary living expenses have been deducted, THAT DOLLAR IS YOURS UNTIL YOU DISPOSE OF IT!

Now, that you find you have a dollar, the next question which arises is this: What will I do with it? Sounds funny, doesn't it, to actually ask yourself such an unusual question (but remember you've got the dollar). Here is one good way to dispose of it, in fact one of the best ways, because it grows while you sleep—you get interest for it: Tell your mail carrier what you've got, and he'll promptly give you War Savings Stamps (Uncle Sam's own) for it, or if you can't wait (by the way, here is one time you can use "can't"), come right over to the Auburn Park Station Postoffice (your own home postoffice) and get them. The new 1920 issue of these helpful stamps is all ready and waiting for you; they are printed a rosy red with a picture of "The Father of His Country," Gen. George Washington, on them.

That's all! Begin 1920 right; begin it intelligently; get ready for 1940.

Information on the Next Income Tax

Plans for the issuance early in December of forms for filing income and excess profits tax returns are being made by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Taxpayers will thus be given the opportunity of making out their returns immediately upon the closing of their books for the year 1919, when accurate knowledge of their accounts is fresh in their minds.

As a convenience to themselves and as a means of expediting the work of the government, taxpayers are urged by the Bureau, in a statement issued today, to avail themselves of this opportunity. The period for filing is from January 1 to March 15, 1920.

If the tax is paid in quarterly installments, one-fourth of the amount must accompany the filing of the return.

Form 1040-A will be used for filing individual income tax returns of $5,000 and less, and Form 1040 for filing returns of income in excess of that amount. The normal rate of tax for 1919, provided for in the Revenue Act of 1918, is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 above the exemptions, and 8 per cent on the remaining net income. The tax for 1918 was 6 per cent and 12 per cent respectively. The surtax rates, which range from 1 per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent of the amount by which the net income exceeds $1,000,000, are the same as for the year 1918. The exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons and heads of families remain unchanged.

These rates apply to every citizen and resident of the United States. Alien non-residents receiving income from sources within the United States are subject to the full tax of 8 per cent on such income in excess of the exemptions.

Form 1041 will be used for filing returns of fiduciaries. Form 1065 for corporations.

People who are selling the wood alcohol whisky should be required to demonstrate the virtues of the concoction by drinking it themselves.

Poison Liquor

People who are convicted of selling poisonous wood alcohol whisky may put up the excuse that they did not know it was dangerous. As people with common sense are supposed to know that wood alcohol is deadly poison, this defense will not impress many people.

The man who will buy such a poison for 25 cents a gallon and retail it illegally for 50 cents a drink, to be used as a beverage, has not given evidence of good faith. He will get no mercy from public sentiment or the courts. The only question will be as to how sever a penalty the law will allow.

Public sentiment will demand an adequate penalty for willful offenses of this kind. They should rank as one form of murder in cases where they produce a fatal result.

Those who have bought a "kick" of the bootlegging fraternity, have had a warning. The Government should see that non-English speaking people understand what dangerous poisons are being distributed.

How far the Government will interfere with the production of "home kick" for personal use is not yet clear. It has been the general feeling that many traditional beverages would be produced for home use without interference. But very startling results are said to be created by many of the recipes being handed around. The festive sports who are experimenting in such matters would do well to ask advice of some reliable druggist.

The sale of poison liquor has brought death to many homes. It is a deplorable tragedy. But every year tens of thousands of people have died of alcoholism. So no new problem has been created that the law will be unable to deal with. Public sentiment will demand drastic punishment for those who induce credulous people to buy dangerous poisons offered as a beverage. They are likely to conclude that other forms of business are more healthful.

The Modern Woman's Career

The very large number of women who already have achieved a considerable business and professional success, face a difficult dilemma when they contemplate marriage. Shall they give up this promising business career, when they assume the responsibility of wifehood and motherhood?

A good many people feel that the habits of living are going to be so changed that many women will still be able to become wives and mothers, and yet not wholly give up business and professional work. They foresee a time when great masses of people will take their meals at community dining rooms, when housecleaning will be done by teams of workers, and when small children will be cared for in community nurseries.

While this is not likely to become the general custom for many years, yet a good many people are following this line to some extent. If domestic servants are ever common again, many women will feel they can better afford to hire a worker at home than give up the calling in which they have made a success.

And even now, the number of women who are conducting little businesses of their own or other lines of work outside the home, is very large. They are apt to take their meals with neighbors or at restaurants and boarding houses, and thus avoid the worst of the housework.

But what becomes of the children when Mother is working at her job? No social change will ever be beneficial if it means neglecting the children. No amount of money should ever tempt a woman to do it. However, millions of women could continue their money earning occupations at least during the hours while their children are at school, if a scientific method for providing for their housekeeping tasks could be arranged.

Secret Service Work.

"Secret Service" in its narrow sense is the name applied to that bureau in the treasury department the duties of which as defined by law are to detect counterfeiting and to protect the president. The term "secret service" in its broader sense includes all of those agencies which detect violations of federal laws and which keep the government informed as to international relationships. Military intelligence is the chief secret service agency in the broader sense and it co-ordinates and uses all the lesser detective agencies of the government.

Male and Female Swimmers.

Swimming comes easier to women than men because the specific gravity of their bodies is less than those of men. The proportion of flesh is greater in the body of a woman than in that of a man and the proportion of bone is less. Therefore the woman is lighter in proportion to her size and floats more readily. This gives her an advantage as a swimmer.

Remembering the Boys.

A friend of mine performed a wedding ceremony for a young couple in our home town, after which the bridegroom took all the money out of his pocket, which was 75 cents, and turned to my friend, the minister, and said: "I will have to keep 50 cents of this to buy cigars for the boys," and handed him the 25 cents for the fee.—Chicago Tribune.

Art of Chinese Gardeners.

Chinese gardeners sometimes plant statuettes of tiny men firmly in pots, just like real plants, and then train live evergreens to grow up over these statuettes. The vines thus form a kind of robe for the statuette men, their white faces and hands protruding from the green leaves.

Carob Tree Yields Dye.

It has been found that a dye of khaki color can be obtained in Argentina from the wood of the carob tree.

Better Than Medicine.

Remember that medicine is, for the most part, nothing but the substitute of ... that thinking ... not take a great deal of either of thinking or fresh air to enable you to throw off any ordinary symptoms of illness. All that is necessary is for you to hold in your mind the thought that you are both healthy and ... ful.

Arctic Light.

At noon of December 21, the shortest and darkest day of the year, we could easily detect a faint glow of light in the south. The true darkness of night is a result of the complete disappearance of all traces of twilight, which occurs when the sun reaches a point of 18 degrees below the horizon. Our latitude was 78 degrees 20 minutes, therefore the sun at this time was only about 12 degrees below the horizon.—From "Four Years in the White North," by Donald B. McMillan.

Uncle Eben.

"Popularity," said Uncle Eben, "kin be misleadin'. Foh instance, de man dat kin worry a tune out of a ukelele is alius mo' popular dan one dat keeps his mind on regular work."

Paths of Democracy.

To accustom oneself to disregard the accidents of manner and station sufficiently to see the man as he is, to have a clear sight for genuine character under any of the disguises of unfamiliarity and prejudice, to know how simple and how common are the elements that go to the making of manhood, are the paths that lead to belief in democracy.—George E. Woodberry.

Some People Never Get Tired.

Marjorie has been asking me daily how much longer she would have to wait before she could go to school. When asking her why she was so anxious, she said, "I'se so tired mother, of being ignorant."—Chicago Tribune.

About the Diamond.

The diamond is the hardest stone known. Its name (French, diamant) is derived from the Greek adamao—untamable. The word was probably attached to the stone because it conveyed the idea of invincible hardness. No acid will scar it; no solvent will dissolve it. Ages may pass without dimming the luster of its adamantine face.

For Hardwood Floor.

If an unfilled or undressed hardwood floor becomes gray apply a solution of two ounces of oxalic acid dissolved in just enough water to wet it well all over. Let stand 15 or 20 minutes; then rinse in cold water and proceed to wash without suds as usual.

Priceless Persian Rugs.

It is a well known fact that an Oriental never sets foot upon his rug with even the soft sandals that he wears. When his foot is set upon his rug it is entirely bare, and this is the reason why oriental rugs woven hundreds of years ago are still perfectly preserved. The hunting rugs of Persia have a great historical value, as they depict authentically how the phoenix and elephant were hunted in ancient days. Mounted hunters pursuing the lion, deer, and other creatures, both fabulous and real, form the groundwork of all of these rugs.

Tattoo Removal.

Various methods for removing tattooing are employed, the best of which consists in going over the tattoo marks with a strong solution of tannin, using the tattooing needle, then rubbing with silver nitrate crayon. Nitric acid, salicylic acid and glycerine, chloroform and a mixture of pepsin, glycerine, hydrochloric acid and water are other substances used for this purpose.

Love's Labor Lost.

A young and enthusiastic golfer at a dinner party started to enumerate to his partner the details of a golf match that he had been playing that day. It was not until dessert was brought in that he suddenly bethought himself that he had been talking all the time; indeed, the young lady at his side had not said a single word during the progress of the meal. "I am afraid I have been boring you with this talk," he said in half apology. "Oh, no—not at all!" was the polite response. "Only, what is golf?"

About the Tourmalines.

Tourmalines were discovered to us as gems in the eighteenth century, when some Dutch children, playing with bright colored stones on a warm summer day, noticed that they attracted and held straws and ashes. For some time after this the stones were called "ash drawers," and later it was discovered that they have electric power, greatest between the degrees of 100 and 200 Fahrenheit.

To Get Rid of Paint Stains.

Paint spilled on a doorstep is most unsightly, and is often rather difficult to remove. In that case make a strong solution of potash and wash the step, letting the solution to soak in. In a short time the paint will become soft, and can be washed off with soap and water. Then use cold water. Paint which has been left on for some time will yield to this treatment.

Of Course Paul Wasn't Mad.

Paul and Billy live in the country. There are two girls in the family also. Their aunts in town are fond of sending them things. One package contained nothing for Paul or Billy. Paul wrote to his grandmother: "What's the matter with my aunts? They sent a package out here and there wasn't a thing for Billy or me in it, and Billy's pretty mad about it."

Pumpernickel.

Pumpernickel is the rye bread used by the Westphalian peasants, which in some other parts of Germany is regarded as a great delicacy. The loaves are sometimes 60 pounds in weight. The name is said to have originated in the saying of a French cavalry soldier, who rejected the bread with disgust, saying it was only "Bon pour Nicholas"—that is, fit or good for Nicholas, his horse.

Personality

People who have business positions to fill are always looking for applicants with "personality." There are schools that advertise to develop "personality." A great many people are constantly failing in business for lack of "personality." And obscure men and women, often without education, rise to heights of success on the basis of their "personality."

What is this magic power that accomplishes such wonders? How can the ordinary young person, who is taking hold of business for the first time this fall, acquire this mystic force that everyone wants and few can define?

And yet there is no secret about it, to the careful observer of life. Any one can acquire it by thoughtful attention.

Probably the most important element in this prized gift is the art of both being and seeming deeply interested in all the people with whom one comes in contact. You go into one store or office, and no one seems to care a hang about your business or you. As soon as some clerk is at liberty, he or she comes up to you with a tired or indifferent face and attends to your affair. The service may be prompt enough, and even intelligent. But somehow you get the impression of machine work. You don't feel that the clerk felt personally interested in you.

The other kind of person meets you with a cheerful smile, and at once gives his entire attention to your interest. He makes you feel that he is exceedingly anxious to serve you in every possible way. And that habit continues after the particular transaction is passed. He inquires how your work is going, and shows that he keeps in mind his previous dealings with you, and gives the impression that you are constantly in his thoughts.

That type of person has personality. Unless he has some very serious fault in other directions, he is sure of success.

Tapestries Brought High Prices.

A collection of rare and costly tapestries and furniture belonging to the estates of Augustus Kountze, James Stillman, and others, was sold at the American Art galleries in New York recently, and brought a total of $57,117.50. Charles, of London, paid $9,000, the top price, for a set of four allegorical tapestries, Italian, of the sixteenth century; $6,500 for an Italian Renaissance tapestry, "Harvesting," and $5,600 for an Italian Renaissance hunting tapestry.

Wastes of Extravagance

Some people do not sympathize with the efforts to check extravagance, believing that free spending tends to keep money in circulation. Extravagance costs the public heavily in two ways:

1. It creates so great demand for goods that producers feel they can get any price they want. So they put up prices freely.

2. It cuts down permanent investment in enterprises that build up the country. The United States is in great need of production equipment for railroads, farms, and manufacturing industries. It can't get that equipment while people are using up their money as they go along. Only when they save money and invest it wisely, can this equipment be secured.

Income Tax Returns

There has been no sufficient system for requiring people liable to income tax to make returns. A man of large wealth, of course, could not safely neglect to report the same. The internal revenue men should compare the lists of returns in their districts, with the lists of those paying high local taxes. A man that paid a good sized tax to his home town, yet neglected to make any income tax return, would probably get into trouble.

He should also have made effort all through his district to obtain lists of those supposed to enjoy good incomes, and should have compared his lists with those who handed in statements.

But how far the law has been enforced in these respects is a matter of guess work. It might be very well lived up to in one locality, and very loosely enforced in others near by, according to the type of man in charge.

It would still be possible for many people of secretive habits to have good incomes without making returns. Many have always made it their policy to handle money affairs in the quietest possible manner, with the idea of avoiding taxation. The chances are that many of these have been liable to the income tax, but have never made any return.

It has been announced that a list of local income tax payers for 1918 is to be posted in every postoffice. The amount paid will not be stated. This should be a means for smoking out the dodgers. These lists should be carefully examined by the public. Those not found there who are known to have incomes rendering them liable, should be handed to the proper authorities for investigation.

The mere publication of these lists will lead people to make their reports. If a return can be secured from every one who should make it, not merely will the revenue of the Government be increased, but will give people confidence in the administration of law and justice.

The Supply of Pulp

Senator Poindexter of Washington claims that there is enough pulp timber in the Northwest to supply all needs of newspaper publishers, and that newsprint paper can be produced at a price much below present figures. He has introduced a bill for a survey of this pulp wood.

High prices are often established by creating the belief that a shortage of raw material exists, when all the time the supply is sufficient.

If the supply of pulp wood is really scarce, there ought to be some plan for rationing paper so that wasteful publishers should not hog more than their share. In any event, the proposed survey would do good.

The Englewood Economist takes pleasure in acceding to the request of the President of the American Forestry Association, that all publishers support this measure. It asks the senators and representatives of Illinois to vote for it.

A Word to Disabled Soldiers

Every man who was in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war, and who on account of such service is not physically fitted to engage at once in a gainful occupation, should at once notify the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in Washington, D. C.

Under the law this Bureau is charged with providing for service men discharged because of disability incurred in active service in the line of duty, compensation and free medical treatment until such time as they are restored to physical fitness. During the summer of 1918 there was a general combing out of the military training camps of the country in an effort to bring up the standard of physical fitness, and many men discharged at that time may be unaware of their rights under an act of Congress to compensation for disability and medical attention and hospital treatment where necessary. All cases of this or a like nature should be brought immediately to the attention of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

Knew Him Well.

The Sunday-school lesson was about Abraham and the classes were discussing the lesson when little Marian was heard to say: "Oh, yes, I know him; I've got him on my penny."

Cattalo a Hybrid.

The cattallo is an animal one parent of which is the buffalo and the other the cow. The hybrids have been raised in considerable numbers on a cattle ranch in the Panhandle of Texas.

Gas in Scotland.

More than 23 per cent of Scotland's illuminating gas is made in municipal plants to more than 51 per cent in Ireland and about 30 per cent in England.

They call this a "questioning age," but it is growing difficult to get enough census enumerators.

Turning over a new leaf doesn't seem to do much good if you are working with the same old spluttery pen.

Pace Makers Company

When Messrs. Herk Kelly and Dumsel arrived at the conclusion that to correctly cater to the clientele of burlesque throughout the United States and Canada something entirely new and unique should be offered the question of proficient stage artists arose.

True, there were performers of reputation who could be procured, provided stipend offers greater than was customary were forthcoming, but there was considerable doubt as to the advisability of stepping beyond bounds heretofore considered reasonable in burlesque. However, after a meeting of company directors the producers decided to outbid all other companies, it need be to obtain the services of a chosen few whose names had been selected from many stars of the stage. Accordingly proposals were advanced to several leading performers among whom were Miss Florence Tanner, musical comedy and vaudeville star, Geo. Bartlett and Harry Seymour, comedians of the first class, Walter Van, whose reputation as a straight man has served to place him in a superior class, Miss Rosy Allen clever ingenue and Miss Dot Davidson a soubrette whose efforts in ragtime jazz entertainment last season won for her the distinction of standing supreme in burlesque circles.

In every instance the salary demand of the artist was far in excess of that paid heretofore in burlesque, but each star whose name had been selected by Messrs. Herk Kelly and Dumsel and who had expressed a desire to become associated with the firm, was tendered a contract, with the result that burlesque patrons of Englewood are soon to see what is considered to be the very strongest aggregation of burlesque stars gathered together in a single production. The Pace Makers, stars and all, will open a week's engagement at the Englewood Theatre commencing with a matinee Sunday, Jan. 25th.

In addition to the cast of principals, there is an all-star chorus organization consisting of twenty jovial girls and during the progress of the two-act comedy several members of the chorus are offered opportunities to entertain as individuals.

"Remnant" at the National

Perhaps one of the best plays of the season is on tap at the National Theatre for the week starting Sunday matinee Jan. 25th when the National Theatre company will be seen in the latest London, Paris and New York success, "Remnant." It is a comedy and a play that will be welcomed by everybody. "Remnant" is a little tragedy waif of the Paris streets and she is seen around the cafes and streets at all times. Finally she is arrested and the judge told her that there was too much of her for a girl and not enough of her for a woman and said that she was a "Remnant." This play will give Miss Iva Shepard, the popular leading woman, a chance to show her versatility and she will be seen as the waif and woman. The play is one that will be interesting to children and while it is a very interesting story the comedy is in the play from the start to the finish. The incidental music in the play was written by Reginald DeKoven. Matinees on Mondays and Thursdays are given at bargain prices.

Labor's Conservative Stand

From the noise that has been created by the I. W. W. people, the Anarchists, Reds, and other disturbers it had been feared that their demoralizing ideas had obtained a large hold in this country. When you see some flannel mouth howling from a soap box, filling the whole square with his lung exercise, the assurance with which he speaks gives his words an importance that they do not possess in reality. The people who listen are not commonly adherents, but mere curiosity seekers.

It was confirmatory of American common sense, that the American Federation of Labor, at its convention recently closed at Atlantic City, should have turned down I. W. W. and communistic proposals with such an overwhelming voice.

A good test of the strength of I. W. W. ideas was given on the proposal to permit the workmen in industrial plants to choose their foremen. That was one of the fanciful notions that bedeviled Russia and prostrated the country in misery. At the A. F. of L. meeting it was beaten by a 20 to 1 vote.

The American workingman has accomplished great gains through the leveling-up process of the war. He does not propose to have spendthrifts and idlers seize his Liberty Bonds and his savings bank deposits as communistic property.

However, this does not mean that the anti-bolshevist campaign should relax its vigor. Europe is badly infected with this poison, and much of it has found its way over here. The basic truths of sound economics should be patiently communicated to people who have never considered them, through all the channels of popular education. But the spirit of the Federation of Labor shows that the working masses have intelligence. When you appeal to their reason and judgment, they can see the hole in the millstone as well as anyone else

Jelly Plant.

Comparatively few people know, says the American Forestry Magazine, that we are getting jelly from plants. The Reselle plant has high commercial value in the Philippines, Hawaii and other Pacific islands. The plant is an annual and attains a height of seven feet. It is probably the only plant in cultivation in which the part utilized for food is the calyx which has excellent qualities for the manufacture of jelly and allied products.
